

CYNTHIA COULOMBE-BÉGIN

Cynthia Coulombe-Bégin brings a sensitivity to her work that stems from her exploration of identity in performance art. Her work draws us into her internal world: exploring the soul and matter, conscience, and the universe.

Coulombe-Bégin's textural paintings often focus on large close-up portrayals of the mouth and eyes, which are depicted with great contrasts of color and chiaroscuro. She directs her attention on an abstract universe full of movement, symbolism, and eroticism.

Born in Miami, Coulombe-Bégin grew up in Quebec City where she earned a Bachelor of Visual Arts in 2006 from Laval University. She also trained as a dancer and has participated in numerous performances throughout Quebec. Starting very young, her parents focused a great deal on both the arts and athletics which helped her develop her own mode of expression.

"I am particularly interested in the fragmented corporal shell, which I emphasize through spontaneous movement and vivid colors." stated Coulombe-Bégin. "My experience with painting has led me to see things differently, to self-discovery and to great astonishment. A movement begins to take shape, from the outside in, resembling a quest for invisible energy and the total union between body and mind. The notion of performance, the search for identity, and the exposure of the body to an explosive universe are indicative of my desire to cast light on all the beauty and vulnerability of our existence in a single image."

Coulombe-Bégin began her professional artistic career at the Marius Barbeau Museum with her first solo exhibition, Traces Corporelles, in 2006. She has continued to exhibit in galleries and art fairs in Hong Kong, New York, Los Angeles, Miami and Quebec. Coulombe-Bégin's works have been acquired by numerous private collectors in Canada, the United States, Europe, Brazil and Australia.
